The Kenslow 24180-18P price code 15

NEW

A tall hip roof adds elegance to the Kenslow, 24180-18P while a prominent gable supported by brick columns draws focus to a welcoming entry. The height of the front porch provides the effect of a larger home. Double doors topped with an arched transom add more elegance.

Inside the home, a corner column defines an opening dining room with an 11-foot-high ceiling. "The living room, kitchen and nook all have 12-foot ceilings," Martin notes. "This allowed me to put columns on either end of the eating bar which are connected with an open plant ledge...so you could have trailing plants visible both from the living room side and the kitchen side. Both secondary bedrooms enjoy walk-in closets, an uncommon feature in homes of this size. Above the garage, I included space for an optional game room with a vaulted ceiling."
